About CANCER FUND - CANCER FUND (CF) is an early-stage impact venture capital firm supporting the commercialization of promising cancer therapies, diagnostics, preventions, and more. Learn more at <http://www.cancerfund.com/>.

Our mission is to identify and support promising new cancer innovations with the potential to improve outcomes, increase access to care, and reduce the cost for cancer patients, survivors, and, at-risk populations. To support our mission, we aim to make investing in cancer innovation faster, easier, and more accessible to investors at every level.

About YOU

You share our passion for cancer innovation and have interest in diving deep into the space to identify and source investment opportunities for CANCER FUND consideration. You gravitate to new technologies and solutions and actively follow cancer research. You possess the intuition and analytical ability to see the potential in innovations as well as the challenges they face.

About the Position - As a CANCER FUND Venture Scout, you will have the opportunity to identify innovative research, assets, and companies with the potential to improve outcomes, increase access to care, and reduce the cost of care for cancer patients, survivors, and other stakeholders. The Venture Scout's role is to help grow CANCER FUND's pipeline of prospective investments, both in general and in alignment with our investment cycle schedule. Success in the role is measured by the number of new innovations identified and presented to CANCER FUND as well as their progress in our screening process for consideration.

Activities may include online research and participating in relevant innovation, investor, and entrepreneurship events; to gather information on new companies and initiate relationships with founders, executives, or other innovators. Core Venture Scout responsibilities include guiding innovators' submittals, or submitting innovations, for pre-screening evaluation through www.cancerfund.com/capital portal and helping to create awareness among other prospective CANCER FUND community members. Venture Scouts are invited to:

- Participate in CANCER FUND's Portfolio Development Orientation & Training
- Attend CANCER FUND Screening Committee sessions
- Represent CANCER FUND at virtual events, real-world events, on social media platforms

Skills - Ideal candidates already have the following skills or are committed to developing them:

- Communication – Ability to engage with innovative entrepreneurs and build relationships based on shared interest
- Ability to grasp and simplify complex information – Understand complex biomedical business ideas and translate them into concise and simple summaries
- Patient/ Customer focus – Take a customer perspective and understand the benefits offered by the company's solution
- Research & Analysis – Conduct secondary research and review company-provided information to support evaluation of the business' value proposition, technical details, and other areas for review

Qualifications

- Significant level of maturity and ability to work as a team or independently, interfacing with founders, executives, innovators, prospective community members, and the CANCER FUND team
- Highly organized, with the initiative and ability to work independently
- Excellent analytical skills and attention to detail, effective process management abilities
- Share our passion to make a difference in the lives of those affected by cancer

Compensation - This is an unpaid role with the opportunity for a part-time equity only compensation position. Ideal candidates will dedicate approximately 1-3 hours to this initiative a week.
